

'I WAS HUNGRY-SO I KILLED HIM'

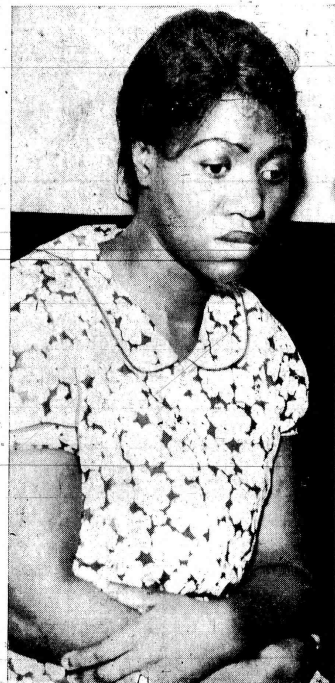

Gloria Williams, "Lady In Red" Calmly Tells How She Killed

"I reached the store (shown above at 161 West Market street) and asked for the boss, He (Skolnick) came. I said I wanted a certain kind of bedroom suit. He led me to the collar. Suddenly I told him: 'I want money and want it quick.' He reached for his wallet. I fired. He dropped dead. I ran."

"I had bought fifty bullets at a Market street store (shown above with gun and bag Gloria carried). I had them with me, I dropped the bag and left the money there."

Here is Gloria Williams, 22-year-old former East Side High School student, telling her story: "I gave the boy the last crust of bread in the house. Then I set my mind on getting money at any cost. I put the gun in my bag that morning and walked all over town. I looked in shop windows and tried to think of some way to get money. Finally I reached the furniture store."

Gloria Held For Jury With Friend; Scandal Denied

NEWARK, N. J.—"I know it was wrong and I didn't mean to kill him but I was hungry and I needed money—needed it bad!" In these words Mrs. Gloria Williams ended her long confession at police headquarters Friday to the murder last Tuesday of 65-year-old Abe Skolnick at 161 West Market street.

Monday morning she was held for the Grand Jury without bail. She may escape the chair and be permitted to plead to second degree murder because she did not kill the aged white man "with malice aforethought." Held with her as a material witness without bail was Thomas Hampton, 37, her common-law husband of the last two years. In her confession she linked Hampton with other robberies, police said.

The night before the crime Mrs. Williams, "the lady in red with the black bag," told police: "I gave my son the last crust of bread in the house. I was determined to get money somewhere the next morning. That morning I wrapped the boy up in bed and left the house with the gun in my bag. I walked all downtown looking in shop windows and thinking of some place I could get money. I was very hungry. I had to have money."

She walked slowly through the downtown streets and up through Central avenue, finally coming to Bergen and W. Market streets. There she went in a dress store where a lone woman clerk waited. While she decided on a course other customers came in. She made an excuse and left, walking down West Market, finally reaching the furniture store at 161. A man sat outside. She asked for the boss and was referred to Skolnick.

Insisting she wanted a certain kind of bedroom suit he finally took her downstairs. Once there she suddenly said to him: "I want money and want it quick."

He turned around to face the muzzle of the revolver in her hand. He reached in his inside pocket for his wallet and threw

3,000 On Bethany Outing

Under the leadership of their renowned pastor, the Rev. William P. Hayes, over three thousand members and friends of Bethany Baptist Church sailed up the Hudson last Thursday for the annual outing to Bear Mountain. Like in past years, the event sponsored by the largest colored church in New Jersey proved to be enjoyable and restful. The committee directing the outing was the recipient of many expressions of commendation for the orderly manner in which each detail was carried out, and the efforts it made to provide comfort for its large following. The largest excursion boat in use was secured for the accommodation of the party host, and this did much to aid the picnicers to enjoy stay on the water.

EAGLES TRADE MCDUFFIE TO N. Y.

Armstrong Victory Means Five Titles

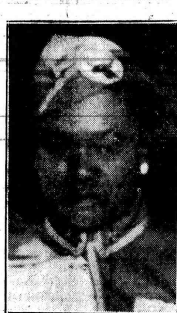

NEW YORK CITY—Although popular interest in Wednesday night's title match between Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers remains at a low ebb, the match can be one of the greatest upsets in boxing history—if Armstrong loses.

Armstrong is controlled by Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting Club. Jacobs last week moved to get control of Madison Square Garden. Much of his success along this line depends on an Armstrong victory Wednesday night. Such a victory will propel Jacobs into his ambition to control New York boxing. Defeat of Armstrong will not help Jacobs to this end. Ambers told a reporter at his Summit Camp Monday that he regarded it dangerous for Negroes to monopolize five world titles. He referred to Joe Louis, John Henry Lewis and Armstrong. Armstrong holds two titles, featherweight and welterweight. He will win a third if he beats Ambers. This will give the race five of the eight, boxing championships.

The two fighters weighed in in New York Wednesday noon. A good-sized crowd was predicted for the match. Armstrong will be in Newark Thursday to pitch for his soft ball team at Oleamar Stadium.

Death Ride

Mrs. Ella Cook, 35, of 125 Surf field street bought a new dress Saturday and went out for a party, expecting a gay time. Instead, this week she is being carried from a West Market street undertaking parlor. She was killed Saturday night when Henry Williams, 41, of 310 Ogden street, gave her a "lift" in his car.

Both stopped to drink on the way to the party. Williams then tore down South Broad street at 76 miles an hour, apparently en route to Union County. He crashed into a sign at the junction of Routes 21, 25 and 29. Mrs. Cook was pinned beneath the car and died at once. Williams is in Beth Tael Hospital.

New Jersey Citizens Focus Attention On N.Y. Numbers Trial

New Jersey colored citizens, particularly those in the sporting world, focused attention, along with Harlemites, on the $100,000-000 numbers trial of James J. Hines and Moe Weintraub, which opened in Justice Ferdinand Pecora's Supreme Courtroom, New York, on Monday morning when the selection of a blue ribbon jury for the sensational trial began. No colored will be on the jury because none were selected in the panel of 300 drawn two weeks ago.

Present as State's witnesses will be Alexander Pompey, Joe and Masjo Ison, all three former Harlem number kings and members of the alleged Dutch Schultz-Hines policy ring, and a score of colored small fry who will help put the "finger" on the two defendants. Chief State witness will be J. Richard (Dickie) Davis, known as well as the late Shultz in the panel of 300 drawn two weeks ago.

Murphy Makes Tax Appeal

City Commissioner Vincent J. Murphy, Director of the Department of Revenue & Finance, on Tuesday issued a definite appeal to all citizens to do everything possible to pay their taxes in advance before August 30, when (Continued on Page 4)

McDuffie Traded

The colorful Terris McDuffie has pitched his last game for the Newark Eagles! Negro baseball's "Dizzy" Dean was traded to the Black Yankees this week for "Slim" Johnson, rookie pitcher. The trade came as a distinct surprise to local ball fans who had come to regard the ace hurler as a fixture with the Eagles. Owner Manley has had several disputes with his eccentric star over the latter's condition and this is believed to be the cause for Manley's sudden decision to trade his star.

Both principals in the controversy talked freely after the announcement of the trade was made. McDuffie heard of the trade in New York and immediately sought out Mr. Manley to verify it. He located him on the corner of Academy and Wickliffe (Continued on Page 7)

Scottsboro Prisoners To Be Freed?

NEW YORK CITY—Four of the five Scottsboro boys remaining in an Alabama prison are expected to be freed shortly.

Ozie Powell, the fifth boy, is expected to remain in jail because he assaulted a deputy sheriff several years ago.

The five whose release is expected are Clarence Norris, Zandy Wright, Heywood Patterson and Charles Weems. Their 75 to 99-year sentences, are expected to be commuted.

Brown and Burrell To Die In Chair

TRENTON — William Brown and Sissy Burrell, both 23-year old slayers of aged William Korper, white, a sexton at Paulsboro, are scheduled to die in the chair the week of August 21.

Beach Fight

ASBURY PARK — Walter Upperman of this city, Robert S. Hargrove of Jersey City and Roger M. Vanecey of Newark, all prominent lawyers, met here Friday afternoon at Upperman's office on Springfield Ave. and drafted plans for carrying the Long Branch beach segregation fight to the N. J. Supreme Court within the next week.

ATTY. UPPERMAN

Last week Upperman appeared before the Long Branch Commission and demanded an answer to the charge that tickets for bathing were sold to colored only for one spot on the famous beach.

Good-bye McDuffie! Great ballplayer, popular socially and in sport world will leave Newark. He is shown here presenting award to Marva Bridge Club.

Gloria Tells On Life

it to the back of the store. She thought he had reached for a gun and let him have it. He told her,
"It didn't mean to kill him," she calmly told police. When she saw him fall she forgot all about her mission; let the money lay on the floor and escaped by an outside stairway on the Norfolk street side.

Present when she confessed was the Rev. C. C. Weathers, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist Church. She looked relieved when she saw him enter the room of police headquarters. She gave the statement without distress. Neither her mother, Mrs. Williams, of 41 Summit street, nor her father had visited her up until Monday night.

It was learned that her mother, an ardent follower of Father M. J. Divine, had gone to New York to ask Divine's advice in the matter over the week-end. She works as a domestic in Molewood.

Gloria is a native of Newark. Born here 22 years ago, she attended the Oliver Street Public School and went to East Side High School through her freshman year. She married at the age of 17.
The marriage took place at St. James' A. M. E. Church, wife Rev. James Sawyer was pastor at the time. Mrs. Luke Dancy, the West Market street undertaker, played the wedding march for the happy couple.

The marriage was a musician herself.
Her strategy was, she event that started Gloria on the road to crime. She and her husband did not make a go of it and separated after two years. Gloria tried work at first. Soon she met up with Hampton. He is alleged to have led her into the field of petty crime.

Paragon of her son is disputed. Some say her husband is the father and others say Hampton is the father.
She and Hampton separated also a few months ago. Two weeks ago he reappeared. She had just moved into a damp cellar room at 106 Warren street. Mrs. Ford, who lives in the first floor apartment at this address, offered to rent her a room in her apartment.

"I want to be alone," Gloria told her. Then she was shown the basement room and rented it at $2 a month. She was not yet back in her rent. She had applied for relief, but had not yet received it. The tiny room contained a cold stove for cooking, a bed and a settee. The gun was hidden in the settee. She admitted stealing the gun from a white apparel police officer who had since been stripped of not reporting the theft.

Gloria's recital of the motives and detail of her crime was given calmly. She did not grow emotional. She continually said hunger drove her on. A police stenographer took down the confession. It was given her to her in transcription form to read. She read it perfectly without mispronouncing a word, and then signed it.

A police officer was brought in. He asked her if she realized the penalty she faced. She told him she did.

"Don't you think you did wrong or right," she was asked.

"I did wrong, but I had to have money," she replied.

Asked why she needed money she admitted having been a prostitute. But the income from that occupation has dropped to little or nothing, she explained, and she was desperate for cash.

Wind rumors in the neighborhood of the murder scene are only rumors. She had never seen the man she killed, and nowhere in her long confession is there a hint of some hidden motive for the crime.

No lawyer has yet been assigned for her defense.

Negroes Must Work!

Newark colored citizens should jubilantly hail the decision of the local unit of the National Negro Congress to continue its job-finding program, and the HERALD NEWS commend the group for their successful efforts of the past few months. Recognizing the imperative need of more employment opportunities for Negroes, the Newark Negro Congress, in its program, has done much to direct the interest of the Negro masses toward SPENDING THEIR MONEY WHERE THEY CAN WORK.

It was less than five years ago that the present publishers of the HERALD NEWS, then sponsoring another local paper, first began to urge members of the race to unite in a campaign to create employment opportunities. Partial success was obtained, which saw several large chain stores giving employment to Negroes as clerks for the first time. But it was over a year ago that the Newark Council of the Negro Congress, stirred into action by the decreasing of race employables, accepted the challenge which had been ignored by other better known organizations. The Congress planned a program, and they inflamed the Negroes of New Jersey as well as Newark to unite in a campaign that MUST succeed, if the race is to retain security and respectability.

NEGROES MUST WORK, and with private industry gradually closing its doors to race workers, new avenue of employment must be created. Other races gain employment from business firms where they spend their money, and the Negro is only asking for his rightful recognition. This is the program of the HERALD NEWS of the National Negro Congress; and this must be the program of all race organizations, including our religious bodies.

If more employment opportunities for Negroes are to be created we must SPEND OUR MONEY WHERE WE CAN WORK, thereby showing our appreciation to those merchants who recognize their obligation to their colored patrons. WE MUST do this!

Beginning with next week's issue the HERALD NEWS will publish a series of stories relating to those stores which employ Negro workers. This is YOUR fight. We can only show the way.

The Police Failed To Act!

The Dowd Natatorium in Elizabeth is a municipal owned swimming pool, operated by the Elizabeth Recreation Commission. For three weeks the pool was closed on account of race difficulties brought about by the attempts of whites to exclude Negroes, and all sorts of acts of vandalism were practiced by the whites. As a result the authorities closed the pool, but reopened it last week. Immediately the white hoodlums — and they are hoodlums — went to work ripping clothes and wetting them in order to discourage the use of the pool by Negroes.

THE POLICE ARE DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE for letting this kind of disorder exist in face of the plain right of Negroes to use the facilities of Dowd Natatorium. If the authorities had taken some decisive action in the beginning against this type of disorder and had not closed the pool, there probably would have been a different story. And since the pool has been reopened the police have given encouragement to the white hoodlums.

Training School for Race
Youth In Formal Closing

The Vocational Guidance Bureau of the National Youth Administration has been successful in obtaining Warren M. Banner to deliver the principal address at the closing exercises of the Summer Training Program's Summer Session at the Pilgrim Baptist Church, Wednesday, August 21, at 7:30 P. M. Mr. Banner is the Director of Research of the National Urban League and has given himself on other occasions as a very capable speaker.

The Related Training Program was created by the Guidance Bureau as a part of its work in guiding Negro youth toward jobs. With the discovery from the "Final Report on Unemployment of 1937" from Washington, that the great majority of unemployed persons in the United States come from the unskilled class, the Guidance Bureau decided to offer something to the out-of-school youth to encourage him to get into the skilled class. Benjamin F. Seldon, Director of Negro Adult Education in New Jersey, advised his co-

NEW STATE POLICE—
ALL WHITE.

News reports say that Col. Mark O. Kimberling, Supervisor, New Jersey State Police, has during the past week, notified 77 men of their appointment to the State Police Force. From the information at hand by this columnist at this writing, not one of the 77 new appointees is a colored man. It looks as if Col. Kimberling is going to keep pace with his predecessor, Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, in maintaining an all-white personnel. Such a policy as to the personnel of Police Department of the State of New Jersey should be amusing to all citizens who believe in a square deal. This department has grown up during the past 17 years. The act creating it was passed in 1921. This is one of the many departments created by our Legislature within recent years, employing in their operations many employees, whose chief officials are not fair enough to appoint qualified colored persons to at least a few positions. There are already three "troops" of the State Police. Now 77 more are being appointed and not one colored person in the whole outfit. It may be excusable if Schwartzkopf and Kimberling ran their own personal business (if they had or have any) in that narrow and prejudiced manner, but as public officials (and public officials are nothing but public servants of the people) Col. Kimberling has no right to conduct his department, especially as to personnel, as he would conduct his own private business.

Colored men are citizens of New Jersey. Colored men are qualified by any standards set up to hold positions in the State Police Department. If Col. Schwartzkopf or Col. Kimberling kept colored men off the State Police because of their color or race they have done so illegally. It is hard to believe that they have been kept off on any other grounds except that of race or color. There are a few fine exceptions of high officials in this State who have not pursued this course. Hon. D. Frederick Burnett, Commissioner of the Alcohol Beverage Department is a notable exception. He has two competent colored inspectors in his department.

Burnett is a fine type of what race citizen of New Jersey should be. He has a statesman's conception of the duties of a public official. But as to a great many other officials of this State who are able by some contrivance or other to keep qualified colored persons from being employed in the department over which they preside, some legal actions should be available, and if available should be used to end such discriminatory practices.

In Memoriam

In memory of my mother, the late Mrs. Maudie Fulton:

May this life ever be dear to me,
When I have done my duty as a son,
I will ever have in store the Love
Of one who was so dear to me.
May God bless her in her passing from this to a better resting place I know.
— Her Son, James Davis.

Newark, N. J.

My dear Mr. Johnson:
It has been a pleasure to have had the splendid cooperation of you and your staff in giving adequate publicity to our activities over the period of years that I was closely associated with the Orange YWCA. The very fine relationship will continue, but I wanted you to know how much I have appreciated the service you are giving the community.

Sincerely yours,
ALICE B. ARBINGTON.

In an article appearing on page three of your Aug. 13, 1938, issue, referring to a conference committee held Aug. 4th last, a certain misunderstanding seems to have arisen.

The article implies that Mr. Joyce, the store manager, was antagonistic. While he did not agree to all the proposals of our committee, his approach was entirely cooperative and we feel that the public should know this.

We intend to continue working with Mr. Joyce in the hope that an entirely agreeable settlement can be reached in the shortest possible time.

ELWOOD M. DEAN,
Secretary.

Murphy Makes
Tax Appeal

the City Tax Sale takes place and these houses and properties from possible actual foreclosure.

"I have determined to direct plan which is described in today's advertisement appearing in the New Jersey Herald-News," said Director Murphy. "Under the terms of this plan a down payment of at least 25 per cent of the total, with balance of 50 per cent of the remainder spread period, will enable a person to keep his property out of the sale."

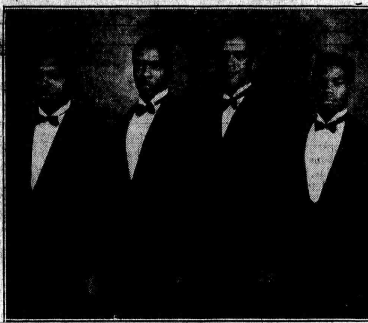

"No one is more desirous than I to aid the taxpayer in this respect. I know the serious problems confronting many of them. I know how hard they struggled in many instances to acquire the property, and how many of them today in the winter of their lives are threatened with loss of homes as other investments. My office in recent months has been the recipient of numerous complaints about inflated realty assessments in the Third Ward and other sections of the city. Accordingly, to my homeowning neighbors I am fully cognizant of the situation and I am glad to make your cooperation for the tax, being, by paying your arrears as well as current taxes. The Controller's office on the first floor of the City Hall is ready to serve you and discuss your problems."

"For myself, I want you to know that just as I took the case from the time I took office, I am available for my advice and authority. Peoples from all spheres of our community have come to see me; I have been patient, courteous and all have been accorded equal consideration. This policy will continue in force throughout my administration. I do appreciate the cooperation the taxpayers are giving me and I want them to know that their responses to my appeals for payments have been heartening. This makes me all the more determined to continue my policy of service and fairness to all people of all races and creeds, all of whom are trying to make this not only a better Newark, but also a better New Jersey."

We are having an Amateur Program on Sunday, August 21st. Very interesting and entertaining, come and learn how an Amateur Program is conducted in a church.

A unique and novel affair. The time: 3:00 P. M. The sponsor: Mrs. Mae Moore, President. Steward: Ardus Board No. 2.

Our beloved Pastor and his family are going on their annual vacation. We will miss them, but the fact that he and Mrs. Nelson have labored so ardently and strenuously for the Lord, we are more than happy that they are in a position to take this small but much-needed vacation.

May they have a safe and enjoyable trip and return to us with new vigor and the same steadfast courage that they always displayed to carry on.

Cliffwood Miss Bride Of Plainfield Youth

Sunday afternoon, in a quaint country church at Cliffwood, Rev. Turner of Newark joined together in holy matrimony Miss Lelia Cauby of Cliffwood and Mr. Thomas Daley of Plainfield.

The beautiful bride, who was attired in a white Spanish lace gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses, Miss Lelia Cauby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daley of Plainfield, was attended by Miss Byrdell Greenwood of Long Branch, who acted as maid of honor. Miss Greenwood was attired in a dusty pink gown worn over a blue tulle slip.

The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Daley and Miss Isabelle Singleton, were gowned in blue organdy dresses worn over pink tulle slips. All of the attendants carried bouquets of blue anemones and pink roses.

Miss Cauby was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Edward Cauby, and the wedding march was played by Miss Florence Conover, student of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

Miss Chandler acted as best man, with Messrs. Edwin Daley and Henry Bailey as the ushers. They were all attired in white gardenia suits with pale blue ties.

Mr. Louis Cauby, Jr., nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer, with the little Misses Elaine Edmonds and Louis Cauby, Jr., in front row (left to right): Elaine Edmonds, Louis Cauby, Jr., and Patricia Ann Daley. Bridal party (left to right): Henry Bailey, Mary Daley, John Thomas Daley, groom; Mr. Lelia Daley, bride; John Chandler, Miss Byrdell Greenwood, Edwin Daley and Miss Isabelle Singleton.

Ohio Relative Feted

Mr. John Powell of Cleveland, Ohio, was feted with a surprise birthday party last week by his aunt, the Misses Carrie and Bessie Powell of 36 Bervyn street, Orange. The rooms were beautifully decorated in Russian style. The color schemes were yellow and blue.

The guests present were the Misses Edna and Emma Mayes, Emily Belle, Helene Smith, of Orange; Juanita Green and Bessie Walker of East Orange; Charlotte Gill, Anna Mae Smith and Ruth Smith of Newark.

Also Messrs. Reginald and Raymond Kato, Oscar Burke, Albert Whittle, Jr., Howard Parley, Gus Bertson, William Burke, of Orange; Charles Smith of Newark; James Powell of New York; Lawrence White of Corona, New York; Lawrence Jordan, Jr., of Princeton.

Mr. Powell was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

East Orange Society Matron Gives Dinner

Bam' Prexy In D. C.

Lacey Brannin, president of the Criterion Club (Bamberg Boys), accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Bernice Brannin, left for Washington, D. C., and Greenboro, N. C., where they will spend their vacation visiting relatives and friends. Before leaving, the popular club president stated that the "boys" are planning an attractive event for the fall. October 8th has been selected as the date, and reports say it will be Count Basie or Chick Webb.

At Dodgers Grill

The First Summer Dance and Soiree as the Facinators Club of Newark, Bloomfield and the Oranges was held at Dodges Grill on last Friday evening, August 25. Clubs from all over North Jersey were present to enjoy themselves to the utmost. The members of the club were gowned in lovely pink gowns and were as fascinating as their name implies. They were introduced to their patrons by that peerless Master of Ceremonies, Arthur Terry.

Officers and members of the club are: Myrtle Byrd, president; Hattie McGee, vice-president; Mary Jackson, financial secretary; Margaret Spralney, corresponding secretary; Olive Peterson, treasurer; "Katy" Robinson, Eva Felton and Mabel Moore.

Penquins Continue To Surge Forward

The Penguin Social Club has taken another step forward in assuring success for itself by selecting an advisor for the club. The person chosen for this important office is Milton Threadgill of Venburg. Mr. Threadgill is also the head of a noted church group at Trinity Baptist Church. Still surging forward, the members have decided to insert in their regular program a "fun nite" to be held every third meeting under the supervision of the entertainment committee, composed of Jerry Jones, Lester Randolph and James Diggs, chairman.

The "fun nite," recently tried out at the home of James Diggs, proved to be a huge success with the members. Those present were Henry Randolph, president; George Cannon, vice-president; James Diggs, treasurer; Dennis Fleming, secretary; Lawrence Woodcock, sergeant-at-arms; Lillian Brown, Louise Nicholas, Bernice Hawley, Marguerite Thomas, Jerry Jones, Lester Randolph and Herbert Wheeler, a visitor from Boston.

Popular Cranford Miss Weds Freehold Youth

Miss Etta Saunders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Saunders of 204 High street, Cranford, was recently married on her father's birthday anniversary to Mr. Anderson Baskerville of Freehold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baskerville of Freehold. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. W. Hamlette, pastor of St. John's Baptist Church, Scotch Plains.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Luellen Chappelle of Madison, sister of the bride, with a vocal solo, "I Love You Truly," by Charles Atcher of Freehold.

The bride was gowned in white silk lace, Princess Ann style, and wore a crown veil and carried a bouquet of white gladiolus and white larkspur. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Charlotte Saunders, who was gowned in yellow embroidered organdy and carried a bouquet of salmon gladiolus and blue delphiniums.

Payton Chappelle of Madison was the groom's best man. The bride's mother was gowned in satin.

The house was beautifully decorated with palm and flowers of the season.

A reception followed the ceremony. Guests were present from Scotch Plains, Westfield, Cranford, Regelle, East Orange, Madison, Wildwood, Janelles, Long Island, and Freehold.

The bride's going-away outfit was a black pin-striped manish suit with white accessories. The couple will reside in Freehold.

By CHARLES GONZALES

The Religious Drama, "Heaven Bound," was given by the ladies of St. Mark's A. M. E. Church, Tuesday evening, Aug. 22, and it was a huge success. Every number was well rendered and credit for the program is due to their instructor and director, Mrs. O. E. Lattimore.

The Progressive Insurance Co. rates several orchids as they work giving our young men work. "When they every success."

Mrs. Dora Davis is away for the summer at the seashore vacationing. We miss her very much.

We have a new playground for the children on Elsie street and hope it will soon be finished, as it will keep the children off the streets.

The "Four Horsemen," Frank, Louie, Bob and Friend, are still on the job and going places. A hard syndicate to keep up with.

The little children are making most of their vacation, for very soon the school bells will ring and away for the usual grind.

Miss Vivian Stevenson of Woodlawn avenue will be the house guest of Mrs. Leseon Johnson, Plainville, Conn., for several weeks.

Mr. O. E. Lattimore and his Steward, Carlos R. Gonzalez, attended the New Brunswick District Conference of the New Jersey Annual Conference of the A. M. E. Church at Asbury Park, Aug. 10 and 11, held at Allen Chapel, A. M. E. Church. A very fine program was rendered and many papers read. Also Rev. Lattimore's paper received loud applause; and Carlos Gonzalez was one of the first selected as a delegate to the Annual Conference, May, 1933, at Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Herbert, Miss Rebecca Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. C. Rodriguez Gonzalez spent the weekend with Mrs. and Mrs. Leveston Johnson in Plainville, Conn.

The Community Club of Cranford held their annual picnic at Coney Island. They say they had a splendid time.

Sunday, August 14, St. Mark's A. M. E. Church, High street, Rev. O. E. Lattimore, who delivered one of his soul-stirring sermons, that in the congregation know that the only thing worth living for is to serve the Lord in season and out. There were many out, and from the look on their faces they enjoyed the services. The choir stepped out after some hymns and they are surely going places, and Mrs. Lattimore, as usual, displayed her great talent on the organ and her training of the choir. A bunch of orchids for her.

Social

Rev. C. M. Long, former East Orange pastor, and family, now of St. Louis, Mo., was guest preacher at the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church of East Orange last Sunday, while in North Jersey the Long family was made welcome by many friends.

Now on their vacation, the Long family visited many cities in the South, including Norfolk, Charlottesville, Richmond, Washington, D. C., Hampton, etc.

Rev. Long and family will leave for St. Louis in time to greet many of their old friends at the National Baptist Convention.

Mrs. Cecil Cox, wife of the prominent aviator of the Newark Student Council of 118 Camden street, is visiting relatives and friends in the "Blue Ridge Mountains" of Virginia.

At Fern Rock

Miss Iris Pettiford of 10 Arch street, left Saturday for a two week's vacation at Fern Rock Camp, Bear Mountain, New York. Miss Gloria Bell of 344 High street accompanied her.

Both girls are popular members of the 4 O'clock Sharp Rev. served Girls of the Y. W. C. A. and active members of the Junior Choir of St. Philip's Church.

Miss Mabel Uring of 20 Eppert street, East Orange, and Miss Rickette Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Voorhes of 101 Emmet street, Newark, are also spending two weeks at Fern Rock Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Herbert, Miss Rebecca Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. C. Rodriguez Gonzalez spent the weekend with Mrs. and Mrs. Leveston Johnson in Plainville, Conn.

The Community Club of Cranford held their annual picnic at Coney Island. They say they had a splendid time.

"Y" Worker Loses Cash And Watch

Aaron Wood, operator of the refreshment concession at the Oakwood Avenue Branch Y. M. C. A., Orange, reported to the police of that town last Wednesday night that an unknown person had entered his dormitory room at the "Y" and stole a $25 watch and $5 in cash.

Visitors From S. C.

Mrs. Annie Notis and family of 105 South 15th street, Newark, had at their week-end guests Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Pearson and two of their daughters of Charleston, South Carolina. Rev. Pearson is the pastor of Mt. Olive Presbyterian Church of Charleston. One daughter, Ella, is a senior at Talladega College, Alabama, and another daughter, Jessica, is a teacher at the Burke Industrial School of Charleston.

Among those to greet the guests before they returned home were Miss Lucy Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Vero May, Mr. Johnson Brown, Rev. L. B. Ellerson and Mr. William Byrd.

Club Presents Drama At Community Church

The "De-Trop Club" presented a two-act comedy drama, entitled "The Mock Court Trial" on Monday, August 28th, at the Community Church, 165 Prince street, Newark. Mrs. Lyons being the director.

The accompanist was Miss Cynthia Hamilton, assisted by Mr. Willie Mayo. Solos were rendered by Miss Cynthia Hamilton, "Without a Song," and Miss Carrie Curry, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

Beauticians Meet

The Montclair Unit Number 13 of the Modern Beauticians Association held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Ellen Moss, 26 Mission street, Sunday, August 7, at six o'clock.

After a very profitable business meeting, the members were served a delightful repast by the hostess, Mrs. Moss, who is vice-president of the unit.

Beauty Product Demonstrated

The Modern Beauticians of Paterson recently played hostess to Mr. Donald Stokes of Newark, who pleasantly introduced his new

by Dewey Ackis

OH ELMER

Went to a dance one winter's night,
Danced around, 'neath the lights so bright,
Heard a rip and then by chance,
I saw I was losing — my desire to dance.

"MAMA, THAT MOON IS HERE AGAIN"

I feel jittery. My nerves are still lumpy. They have been that way since the middle of last week when I saw a full, red moon shining over and directly down on Barclay street around 10 P. M. This has been an unlucky omen "On the Hill" for the past few years.

A few minutes after I had casually made remarks of my feelings to a bystander in the neighborhood, there was an automobile fight between two girls, which caused a hundred heads to peer out of apartment house windows.

I am telling you, after seeing the Moon in its unusual state, I was in no condition to remain still, so I walked several blocks in the vicinity of Barclay and Spruce streets. Everyone there seemed to have been arrested. Several couples who are normally as close as two peas in a pod and with the outlandish expression of Romeo and Juliet were as friendly as strange wild cats. One gigoilo had even decided to end it quickly for no reason at all. He wanted to wing his way heavenly, apparently because there was a red moon over Barclay street, which gave him a depressed feeling.

Several persons, who are usually in their chambers of many winks, were out walking with chips on their shoulders ready to do a Joe Louis on an instant's notice.

Yes, sire, the Hill was like that, terribly unsettled and upset and remained so over the week-end.

Saturday nite the moon slowly came up and shown as clear as a crystal, and believe it or not, everything became peaceful and quiet.

The next time I see a red moon shining directly over Barclay street, there is but one thing for me to do and that is, lock myself in my room for the rest of the week, before things become too unsettled.

"BUSINESS ON THE UP"

The nite clubs in North Jersey are jumping despite the very hot weather. Of course, business does not compare with the Fall and Winter season, but there has not been any great loss, according to the savers of games put to large numbers of owners.

The summer fun sessions have been pretty well crowded, which acts as a sort of barometer of the general trend of nite life business. With the hot weather season (summer) being two-thirds over, most places are stocking up for a tremendous early fall and winter season.

The country's big shots predicted in 1933 that prosperity would gradually return in the fall of 1938, which we are approaching. After August 15 a brisk season is anticipated, and from every indication and angle it likely will be.

Nite life in New Jersey gives employment to thousands, putting into circulation millions of dollars. If money can be kept going around, fear of any slowness of business will be eliminated.

Thru club owners are looking forward to a brisk nite-life season.

Unconfirmed rumors circulating in the West Market street section are that: All is not well in the recent basement murder case. Street corner gossip has it that a mighty ace up her sleeve will be spring at the coming trial. Further details will be given after a thorough check-up. Watch this column for synopsis of her life. It may be one of the saddest stories ever told of poverty and everyday life in the world's richest industrial city.

Jimmy Lunceford and his recording orchestra comes to Kraeger's September 2nd, Friday evening. The Inter-City Actors' Club is giving its initial dance Friday nite, August 19.

With bunches of love, your columnist heard this remark in a Third Ward park: "Darling, it is better to have lied and loved than not to have loved at all."

LATCH-ON 2-9006.....

Hello, may I please dig a little spell to Mr. Kushi Foot?....He isn't in? Well, let me talk to Slow Jive, Man, you solidly missed it, as I've got to cut on that main stem on the early bright this evening.

Hello, Slow Jive?....Yeah, this is me. Just called up to tell you about that fine ride up the HUDSON last week, Man, you solidly missed it. One deck was practically reserved for the jumpers and I won't mention much about the top decks, except they were killas....

Well, you know who dug it? Well, it was George Cole, Herbert Johnson, Robert Gorey, Lillian Martin, Gladys Cooper, Marie and Beatrice Cole, Edna Edwards, Horace Travis, Cornelius Lawrence, Bill Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Walker, Eddie Saunders, Robert Jones, Gladys and Lucy

Sells Poth's Beer

RUSSELL DAWKINS

With the advent of the summer months, many persons seek to "cool off" and to quench their thirst by drinking beer. And this is where Russell Dawkins, a former athlete from Virginia, enters the picture. As salesman for Poth's Beer, probably the only Negro beer salesman in the State, Mr. Dawkins is offering one of the best-made products that can satisfy summer drinkers. Poth's Beer is handled by the leading taverns, and when patrons make a special request for Poth's Beer they are spending their money with a firm that employs a Negro salesman.

By the way, forget that.... Mrs. Vivian Corprew and her daughter, Carolyn, of Newark, are visiting Mrs. Ellie Morse of New York City, so don't be surprised if you see them on one of your broad avenues....

WELL, Old Man, since the jive is running out and I don't see you coming on the tabs of some more, I'll hang up and dig you later....

Eagles Hope To Stop Grays In Doubleheader Sun.

On The Button

By Oliver "Butts" Brown

The Newark Eagles turned in some nice baseball against the Homestead Grays, and despite the loss, through injuries or sickness, of Wells, McDuffie, Brown, Green and Wright, the team won more games than they have even won from the clams. "Dick" Lundy was loud in his praise for his charges. "Any team that can lose their best players and still win ball games is entitled to plenty of credit. It was sensational the way they played and I am proud of them," said Lundy in speaking of the trip. He added that:

"Crutchfield, Dandridge and Seay played sensational ball on the trip. Crutchfield started hitting the ball the first game on foreign soil and must have batted .500. Brother, that is hitting the ball in any league, and when you consider that it was against the Grays, then the feat is even more remarkable. Dandridge played shortstop when Wells was laid up with a 'charley-horse,' and he was a sensation. It's funny about Ray. He can play a remarkable game at shortstop on the road, but always goes bad at that position in Newark."

"Then, too much credit cannot be given Boy Evans, who was the only pitcher I had in any condition to work. Bob pitcher in 6 out of 12 games and was good in all of them. The bulk of the work fell on him and he carried the load in masterful style."

When Lundy was asked what his plans for the team were for the future, he said: "Newark must have a winning, fighting and colorful ball team. The fans here are great and deserve it. Sometimes players become too contented and secure and fail to hustle like they should. We need pitching, and then, too, probably a few changes in the lineup would be just the thing needed to give the club what it needs. So maybe some trades will be made before the season ends or before next season begins. Yes, say, too, that 'Dick' Seay showed plenty on the trip and was in there every minute."

The veteran manager was also enthused over Miller, formerly of the St. Louis Stars, who was picked up at Buffalo. Miller worked in four games and beat the Grays the last game of the series.

Well, fans, you have often wondered about it, have probably argued about it and now you will see it for yourselves—the question of who is the harder hitter, Mule Suttles of the Eagles or Josh Gibson of the Homestead Grays. Sunday afternoon at Ruppert Stadium these two giants of swat will be pitted against each other in a long-distance contest to settle their battling prowess. This exhibition alone will be worth the price of admission, but in addition our old jinx, the Grays, will be with us for two games, and that is something."

This boy "Jim" Hill of the Eagles looks like the find of the year. His two appearances against the Black Yanks over the week-end stamps him as an up-and-coming star. Though only 19 years old, standing about 5 ft. 4 inches and weighing 140 pounds, he has blinding speed, poise and a jolly good curve ball—in other words, everything. Mark him down as one of the future left-hand greats in the league.

"Hack" Barker came back to dog the Eagle owners last week. Hack was formerly the property of the Eagles but he was let out when the Manleys took over the club. Barker never liked that and gets plenty of pleasure out of beating his former teammates. He almost won the first game and got two hits in one inning in the second besides turning in some great fielding plays. Whether with us or against us, our hat is off to Barker as one of the best at-around players in Negro baseball."

Softball Results

The strong Lawrence A. C. continued their victory streak by winning three games over the week-end. They walloped the strong Chuck Licks 12-9; Bloomfield Browns 5-4 and 9-5 in a doubleheader Sunday at Douglass-Harrison Park.

Dodell was the hitting star in Sunday's encounters with 7 hits out of 9 times at bat.

Released

Owner Abe Manley announced the dismissal of Jesse Brown, pitcher, Casey, catcher, and Matthews, first baseman, Tuesday. Brown and Casey were let out because they were out of condition, while Matthews has suffered a sore arm all season that failed to respond to treatment.

Eagles Beat Yanks In Ninth-Inning Rally 6-5; Lose 2nd By 12-3 Score

The revamped Black Yanks and rejuvenated Newark Eagles split a doubleheader here Sunday with the Eagles winning the opener 6-5 and the Yanks the nightcap 12-3.

"Jim" Hill, new 19-year-old youngster from Albany, N. Y., pitched masterful ball until a Black Yank's uprising in the 9th drove him to the showers. Bob Evans relieved and stopped the Yanks without further scoring.

In the home half Crutchfield revived hopes with a single off Brown, who relieved Stanley. Dandridge sent the fans wild with a vicious double to left. Brown was relieved by Holland to stop the threat.

While Wells looked over Holland's first pitch, and then smashed the next ball between Cannady and Morney for a clean single and victory.

The second game was a pitcher's battle between Evans and Johnson for five innings with the Eagles leading 2-0. But in the 5th the storm of hits broke loose and the Eagles used 4 hurries before the side was finally retired. When the smoke cleared away 10 runs were across the plate.

Dandridge got a homer in the sixth and the Yanks added two more in the seventh to win 12-3.

topher was caught in an attempted squeeze play and Starks failed to relieve the tension.

Then came the hectic ninth. Johnson singled and Starks singled. Suttles fumbled a perfect doubleplay ball and the bases were loaded. Then Hill forced in a run and Barker cracked a double to score 2 runs and put the Yanks ahead 5-4. Evans came in and stopped the Yanks without further scoring.

Jake Powell Visits Harlem

Jake Powell, Yank outfielder, who slurred 15 million Negroes in a radio broadcast recently, spent Sunday night in Harlem trying to show irate race fans he meant no harm.

Whether this step was of Powell's own choosing or an order from the Yank's front office is not known. But the big-mouthed, flip and irresponsible radio poet was as meek as a lamb as he toured Harlem asking forgiveness.

Such a wave of protest swept the county over Powell's remark that Judge Landis immediately slapped a 10-day suspension on him. Organizations have threatened to boycott and picket every park the Yanks played in as long as Powell is on the team.

Powell faces the loss of his policeman's job and also being ousted from organized baseball if the protest continues.

It's A Nobby!

Len Pierson, Ed Stone, Willie Wells and Ray Dandridge won Nobby hats for hitting home runs against the Black Yankees over the week-end.

The fans have caught on to the fine spirit of sportsmanship shown by "Red," the congenial owner of the store, in awarding a hat for each homer.

Several proud Eagle players in looking over the latest fall hats at Nobby's exclaimed: "This hat lives up to the thing it's given for—it's a Hit."

The Grays' "Big Bertha"

JOSH GIBSON

Star catcher of Homestead Grays, will be in the lineup when Eagles meet Grays here Sunday. Josh is the "Big Bertha" of the Homestead nine and his hitting has made him a terror to all opposing slabsmen. Fast and cocky, Josh is credited with instilling his fight into the team which has gained for them the designation of "Gas House Gang."

and called him over to talk. After the brief conference McDuffie talked to Lofse around. "Mr. Manley says that I became unpopular with the fans. I don't believe it. I am a fighter and fight to win every ball game I pitch. The world loves a fighter and my arguments with umpires and opposing players, and even with my teammates, was not an act but just an expression of this feeling."

"How can I be so unpopular when every time I go to the park hundreds of fans ask me if I am going to pitch and express a desire that I would get the call? They booed me Sunday but that still doesn't prove me unpopular. The fans know my disposition and may have been trying to make me mad so that I would put all I had on the ball. There may be those who dislike me, but nobody can tell me that the majority of Newark fans are against me. They voted me the most valuable player on the team last year, and I can think of nothing that I have done to lose favor so quickly this year."

"Another thing, didn't I carry the bulk of the pitching burdens this year after Day hurt his arm? I even pitched a doubleheader in Brooklyn, July 4th, and won both, because the team was going bad and I wanted to pull 'em out of a slump."

"Maybe it is good for all concerned that I should be traded, but then I should at least be sent to a team where I can better my situation. Then, too, I think that Manley should have gotten an experienced pitcher for me and not an unproved rookie," blasted the eccentric hurler.

Manley was just as determined and positive in his stand. "McDuffie got in wrong with the fans and no ball player can do that and play on my team. His temper has been a source of trouble ever since he has been with the club, but we have tolerated it in the hope that he would be able to gain control of himself. Our patience has not been rewarded."

"I tried to trade him to several clubs, but without success. When at last the Black Yankees offered me Johnson I accepted. McDuffie is now the property of that club and if he can arrange a trade to better himself, that is up to him and Semler."

TOPIC of today's papers: The Old Man Reminiscence, maybe. Writer: Edwards, the "old timer," the ex-impressionist. Approach: Semi-humorous with occasional touches of whimsy. Anti-whimsies should check this one. Information to be obtained therefrom: Practically none. Educational value: None. Entertainment value: Practically none. Names appear in column: Smith, Brown, Jones and very likely Edwards, wherever it can bring it in. It seems to be that this is sufficient preparation for any one. If you read this piece now and don't like it it's your own fault.

WITHOUT fear of contradiction, friend, clients, and countrymen, I'll say I've introduced and handled more amateur entertainers—simon pure singers, dancers, and miscellaneous talent—than any other Sepian in the vicinity. Did I hear any nays? Hold no thought, my friends, that I am reaching aimlessly into memory's grab-bag for this article. I've gotten out my big red scrapbook containing my clippings and press notices—snatched it off, and spread it out before me.

THE column begins here: Officially: A MATHEMATICAL "show" is among the vanishing American industries. I like to think back when every night was h'Abner Nite... when I parked behind a microphone, then the parade of talented Jersey boys and girls before my public...

I WONDER what those future stars are doing today. How many made "big time"? How many are struggling for the Broadway chance? Let's see. I think a group of youngsters down to WHIM some years ago to appear on a Jimmy Shorser program. In the band was Melvin Halden, tap dancer; Carl Grigory, a dignified baritone. There was a young piano player who stirred his listeners to such a degree that Station Manager Shorser gave him a fifteen-minute spot. Frank Payne, the pianist, played for several Sundays and gave up the thing. Cornelius Hill, whom I considered had about the best voice to be found among my talents, sang at an audition for WHBI.

I'll never forget my master of ceremonies work at the Radio Theatre on Broad street in Newark. Ah, those were the days! I was the first and only race emcee to officiate at that theatre's amateur shows. I was proud when Walter Saunders, now first place on Monette nite with his golden-voiced singing, I went on as an amateur one night to fill in a spot. I was singing in a deep basso and the next moment I found myself up in a high key. Did the crowd roar?

Later the manager sent me down to the Broad Street Theatre.
